Revisions to the NYS WIC Acceptable Foods Card

The July 2014 NYS WIC Acceptable Foods Card has been reprinted to reflect minor changes made as a result of manufacturer corrections of their earlier submissions. These changes will be incorporated into the August 2014 Foods Card which will replace the July 2014 Foods card and include:

- Tofu – Nasoya branded products have been added.
- Soy Beverages – Silk Original 32 ounce product has been updated to say “refrigerated carton”.
- Hot Cereal - The name “Avena Instantanea Con Hierro” has been changed to “Instant Oats with Iron”. Both the English and Spanish names are printed on the label for this product.
- Baby Food – Vegetables and Fruits – “Pouches” are not allowed.
- Peanut Butter – Natural and reduced fat varieties are allowed.
- Infant Cereal – A clarifying statement was added to read “Check must say Gerber Cereal for Baby”

In addition to these changes, a definition for “canned” has been added to the Acceptable Foods for Vegetables and Fruits Checks page.

A copy of the August 2014 Foods card is enclosed. Vendors are responsible for training all of their staff on the NYS WIC Acceptable Foods.
