Effective immediately, the New York State WIC Program is pleased to announce the implementation of an online, interactive training for vendors to meet their training requirements.

In order to participate, vendors must ensure they can meet the technology requirements for accessing the online training sessions, and must communicate these requirements with their corporate officers, if applicable, to ensure these requirements can be met. All training sessions will be conducted as usual by the Vendor Management Agency (VMA).

The VMA will send vendors a training invitation email that will provide the necessary technical requirements, and instructions for joining the online training session.

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact your VMA.

Thank you,

NYS WIC Program
