NYS WIC PROGRAM VENDOR BULLETIN

Title: Infant Formula Public Health Advisory – Voluntary Recall of Nutramigen with Probiotic LGG Powder Infant Formula

Dear WIC Vendors,

Reckitt/Mead Johnson announced on December 30, 2023 that out of an abundance of caution it has chosen to voluntarily recall select batches of Nutramigen LGG powder, a specialty infant formula for the dietary management of Cows Milk Allergy, due to a remote possibility of cross-contamination with Cronobacter sakazakii in product sampled outside the United States. The impacted batch codes are in the list below. All product being recalled went through extensive testing by both Reckitt/Mead Johnson and the United States Food and Drug Administration, and tested negative for the bacteria. No illnesses or adverse consumer reactions have been reported.

The select products in question can be identified by batch codes, Universal Product Code and a “Use By Date” shown in the list below, which are also located on the bottom of the product can.
